MEDAL OF ARTS recipients the Preservation Hall Jazz Band bring audiences to their feet, clapping and dancing and parading through the aisles. Internationally recognized as cultural ambassadors, these jazz pioneers have performed worldwide for over 50 years. From the streets of New Orleans to Carnegie Hall, from the White House to the Royal Palace of Thailand, no one can sit still when the Preservation Hall Band comes to town.

BENNY BEAN & HIS PRESERVATION HALL REVUE

Set in 1928 New Orleans, "Benny Bean and His Preservation Hall Revue" is a period silent film by award winning film maker and director Danny Clinch and Creative Director of Preservation Hall Ben Jaffe. Follow Benny (played by clarinetist Charlie Gabriel) as he makes his triumphant return home to New Orleans only to discover Preservation Hall is in danger of closing. Live musical accompaniment provided live onstage by the Preservation Hall Jazz Band.

AMERICAN LEGACIES: PRESERVATION HALL JAZZ BAND AND THE DEL MCCOURY BAND

For the first time ever, the high and lonesome sound of the Appalachians and the hot and lively rhythms of New Orleans join together on this landmark collaboration between two of America's great living institutions: Preservation Hall and the Del McCoury Band. Witness two great musical legacies as they join forces to create an exciting evening where the hill country meets the bayou to create a new style of music: MARDI GRASS.

MA MAISON: TREY MCINTYRE PROJECT WITH THE PRESERVATION HALL JAZZ BAND

MA MAISON is the triumphant landmark collaboration between internationally acclaimed choreographer Trey McIntyre and the legendary Preservation Hall Jazz Band. This groundbreaking work is a homage to the living souls of New Orleans' past, where life and death are immortalized through mourning and dance.

SONG FOR MY FATHERS: A NEW ORLEANS STORY IN BLACK AND WHITE

SONG FOR MY FATHERS is a multimedia, theatrical adaptation of Tom Sancton's award winning childhood memoir. Set in the years of the Jim Crow era, "Song" is the story of Sancton's self discovery and friendship with the aging African-American jazz musicians of New Orleans. Tom is selflessly mentored by his idols and discovers the true meaning of brotherhood. Accompanied by the Preservation Hall Jazz Band along with historic video footage from the Hall's archives, this unique production blurs the lines between personal journey and historic account.

CREOLE CHRISTMAS

Celebrate the Holiday Season with the Preservation Hall Jazz Band as they swing in the Holiday Season New Orleans style, hot and spicy, with their wildly popular "CREOLE CHRISTMAS." An annual must-see event for audiences of all ages, come dance in the aisles as the Preservation Hall Band struts their stuff and sprinkles the evening with Holiday Classics with a New Orleans twist.
